

- Topics are used to implement publish-subscribe patterns (multicast)
- Every message can be consumed more than once
- In general, when a subscriber is down when a message is published, it will not see the message when it comes back up (this behaviour can be changed with durable subscriptions, which have a cost)

